THE BEST OF TODAY

The best of today's memories, those special moments which we will never forget will become our classics of tomorrow.

In this edition of the Eagle we will relive those memories in an attempt to capture those unique moments which make an EAGLE ... CLASSIC!

Left: Moe, Lisa, Jamie, Belinda, and Samantha are all expressing the happy family feeling yearbook has.

Below: Perfect Hideaway, no one will ever find me up here is what Neal Hurst seems to be saying while planning to catch up on some lost sleep.

CLASSIC MOMENTS

Classic moments in the life of Joe Tuttle: 2:50 p.m. Fridays, Christmas breaks, spring break, and the end of school.

Joe Tuttle

My classic moment was when I found out I was going to Girls' State. That meant I got out of all my final exams, especially Physics.

Johnna Smith

My classic moment was being chosen to be a member of the yearbook staff. I couldn't believe that I was capable of helping others to create a book for my school. Serena Brooks ft: Mr. Hanes displays his "Hanes" derwear as a punishment for losing a allenge during magazine sales.

Listening to classical music in the Fourth grade with the music teacher.

John Claypool

Above: Kristi Brooks and Jackie Borders rush down the hall in an attempt to arrive at class on time.

CLASSIC MOMENTS

In Mrs. Gail Johnson's class, I was sitting on the window sill because the air conditioner was messed up. Somehow I managed to fall out of the window. I'll never forget that classic moment.

— John Hall With twenty seconds left on the clock in the fourth quarter, I kicked the extra point that put us ahead to win the game.

— Shane Creasy My classic moment was when I won the AFS scholarship. The excitement and curiosity of the upcoming year made me burst with overflowing happiness.

— Ursula Dinkins Grasshoppers and study hall do not mix. A grasshopper jumped down my shirt in study hall. I ran out screaming. The grasshopper was caught and the screaming stopped, but not the laughter.

- Anita Satterfield

Below: Chuck Shinton and John Ruckman take a much needed break as everyone else practice dialogues in Spanish.

Right: A new fashion is being created by Jeff Morris.

Far right: Mrs. Law is getting wet as she receives her punishment from Mr. Hanes for losing a challenge during the magazine drive.

Classics of Tomorrow stonewashed jeans, high topped sneakers, and Coke Classic t-shirts; Chicago Bears; Alf; IROC Z's.

Below: Mrs. Blankenship is being presented a pie in the face by Mrs. Johnson because Mrs. B. lost her challenge to Mrs. J. during the magazine drive. You can have your pie and eat it too.

Mr. Johnson shows some class in his new dance "sweep em up" as he keeps the school clean.

CLASSIC MOMENTS

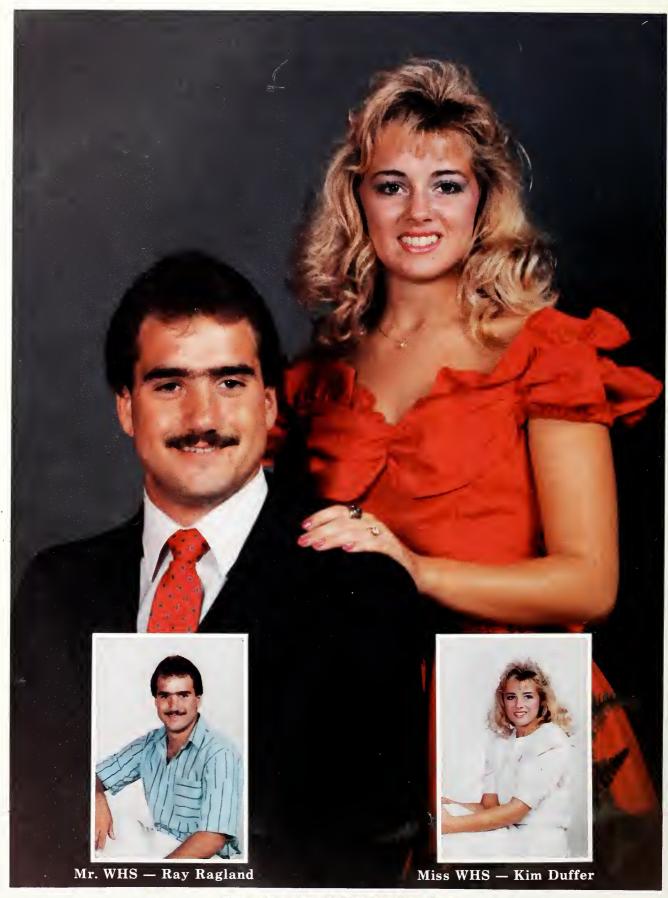

My classic moment was when I saw my favorite English teacher get splattered with a pie by the Spanish teacher.

— Phillip Willis My classic moment was when Mrs. Law, one of our nicest teachers, got water splashed on her head. She's always challenging people, but when she loses, she takes it like a good sport!

- Cindy Brooks My classic moment was when I made the cheerleading squad and was chosen co-captain.

— Marie Tuttle I had an argument with a friend of mine so that night I made some cookies with Ex-Lax in them. The next day my friend ate the cookies and my revenge proved to be a success.

A CLASSIC SALUTE TO

We proudly dedicate this edition of the Eagle to a man who embodies the classic qualities of a true winner on and off the field. His understanding, patience, and dependability are a few of his finest qualities that give us the basis for the great admiration we have toward him.

Proud, but not pompous

Enthusiastic, but not effusive

R eady, but not resigned

R esolute, but not raving

Yes, this 'spells' Perry, and so it is to him, our Coach, Roger Perry, who has 'seasoned' our seasons with winnings and has 'seasoned' our school with pride that we gratefully dedicate the 1988 edition of the Eagle.

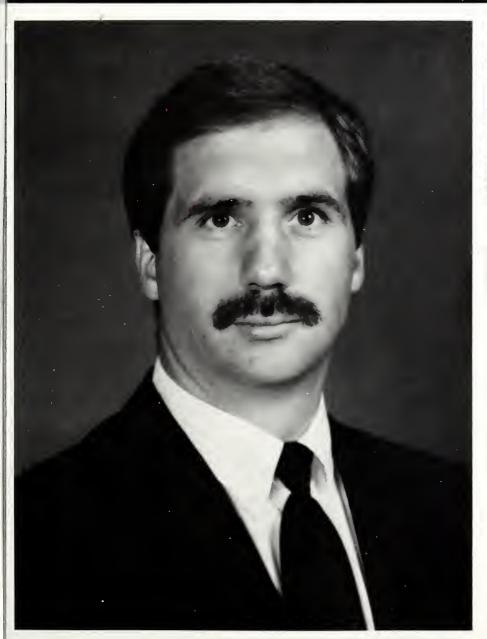

- Mrs. Joe Y. Law

As our coach and our friend, he guides us in the direction of our goals. We all have our bad qualities, but he tries to pull our classic moments into the spotlight.

"When the strong command, obedience is best." — Sir Henry Newbolt

This is an award chosen by the faculty and presented to one senior boy and one senior girl. This award recognizes outstanding young people with a high moral character and leadership qualities.

Both Andy and Angie are well deserving of this award. Andy is president of our school BETA club, and Angie is the president of the senior class.

AWARD OF LEADERSHIP

DAR

Mark Troutt

This award emphasizes dependability, leadership and patriotism. The nominees for this award are chosen by the faculty and voted on by the senior class.

One of the ways Mark fulfills the qualifications of this award is by being manager of the high school football team.

AFTER CLASS

SENIOR

For some students work does not end at 3:00 or at the end of the school year. Many have responsibilities and jobs after class.

One student whose work does not end at 3:00 is Mark Stubblefield. He enjoys working on a dairy farm with his father. Mark says, "I like cutting and raking the hay for the cows." "I like doing anything that has to do with milking cows." He considers the actual milking process as both fun and hard work. He says, "Sealing a milk tank is hard; the actual milking process is fun." "We milk 18 head of Holstein cattle twice a day." Mark works mostly on weekends. He gets up at 4:30 A.M. and gets ready to head toward the barn. He goes back at 6 P.M. and milks again. He wants to continue working on the dairy farm when he graduates.

Troy Roberts is one who keeps busy during the summer as well as during the school year. He had an interesting job over the summer. He was a carpenter. His employer was Jerry Gregory. He learned his skills from his father and other family members. His most interesting job was building a restaurant. He does not have an idea whether or not this will be his profession.

SPOTLIGHT

The ending of a school year is only a begining for the seniors. They leave their high school years with expectations for the future and the advantages that dedication and commitment have given them.

Nine years of commitment has rewarded Rachel Tuttle with a sense of accomplishment and memories of many good times. She has been in 4-H since the 4th grade. She says the reasons she's stayed in 4-H are because of the friends she makes from other states, the fun, the rewards, and the experience it gives her. In addition to winning many awards, Rachel says that 4-H has been a learning experience that never seemed like one.

Lorie Akins starts basic training after graduation at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. She is a person who is going places. She has joined the Army in order to expand her horizons. Lorie stated, "It was a hard decision and it took a lot of thought." She said the main reason for enlisting is because of the adventure, being involved, and being able to travel to different areas.

Dedication and hardwork have earned Shelena Claypool special recognition. She has been a member of the Westmoreland High School Eagle Marching Band for five years. Her individual interest in band led her to become a drum major. She has filled this position for a little more than one and a half years. One of Shelena's responsibilities as Drum Major is to assist Mrs. Garner and to run through the rehearsals. Shelena says, "Band has helped me grow up and assume responsibilities."

MOST OUTSTANDING SENIORS

The most outstanding thing in my life are my family and all my friends.

Kirk Woodard

The most outstanding thing in my life is the love I have for God and the people that surround me. I enjoy the presence of my friends, teachers, and my family. I really enjoy sharing my friendship with them.

Ray Ragland

The most outstanding things in my life are having family and friends.

Mickey Wheely

The most outstanding things in my life are my parents, who had the ability to put up with my little idiosyncrasies for 18 years. The other most outstanding thing in my life is Doug, who was there through the thick-n-thin, giving me the power to troop on.

Kim Sneed

My family and my best friend are the most outstanding thing in my life because they always help me make the most of my life.

Angie Borders

MOST OUTSTANDING JUNIORS

The most outstanding things in my life are my relationship with God, my family, and my friends.

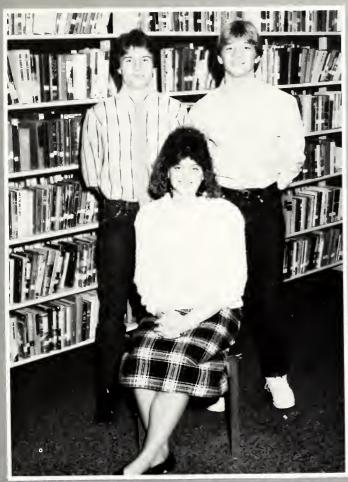

Amy Hammock

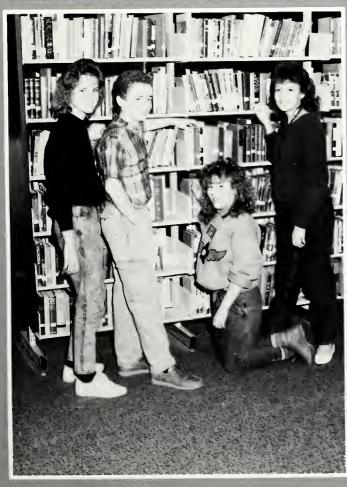

The most outstanding thing in my life is God giving me the ability to try, although I may not reach perfection, I will still try.

Joe Baskerville

MOST OUTSTANDING SOPHOMORES

The most outstanding thing in my life is my relationship with my family and friends.

Daniel Gibbs

The most outstanding things in my life are my family and God. When I am ever feeling down or need help, they are both always there to support me.

Audrey Vicent

The most outstanding things in my life are my family, friends, the new school, and my education.

Misty Reed

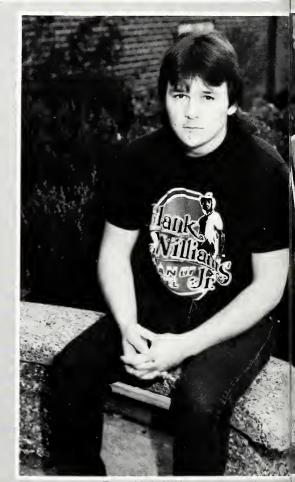

Hobbies are an important part of many students' lives. Among these are Chris Smith and Belinda Bowman. They use their time to do the things they love most. Riding motorcycles is Chris Smith's hobby. He has been riding motorcycles since he was twelve years old. He has spent most of this time riding harescramblers until recently when he went to motorcross racing. "I plan on going professional before I turn nineteen years old," says Chris. He races for Bridgestone Tires and hopes to race for Yamaha bikes when he gets better at motorcross. He placed fourth in a race, but he says, "I plan to do better next season."

Belinda Bowman's hobby is shooting pool. She started shooting pool when she was thirteen. She has accomplished many skills since then. She has gotten over fifteen trophies during a one year period. Tournament season usually lasts about two months. Chalk one up for Belinda!

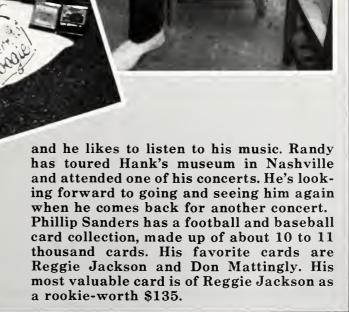

CLASSIC COLLECTIONS

Baseball cards, model cars, and famous people are classical traditions that have been passed down through generations. Chris Meadors is one of our collectors who collects comic books. He first started collecting when he was 4 years old; he is a senior now. Although he has collected over 2,200 comic books, X-men is his favorite comic book because it is his most expensive.

Randy Perry is a Hank Williams, Jr. fan. He started his collection when he was 13 years old. He has always been a big fan of Hank's

THE CLASSIC CLASH

The 1987 Eagle football team entered the Double "A" season with a surprising clash. The Double "A" season began with the defeat of Springfield 7-6. This victory raised their hopes for a successful season. "Going into the Double "A" season was a tremendous challenge," according to Coach Roger Perry, "but that challenge was met by our young men." Although their destiny wasn't to go to the playoffs, the Eagles did go to the Highlander Braggin' Bowl in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Coach Perry added "It was a trip made with a class bunch of boys, and a trip that I will never forget." The Eagles defeated Seamore County with a score of 24-7. Although the team will have to go through a rebuilding process (8 seniors are leaving, taking with them 21 years of playing experience), they will enter the new season with confidence and "class".

CLASSIC MOMENTS

... Coaching the 1987 football team that went against the odds and moved into class Double "A". We had a great season with a 9-2 record and were the Highlander Braggin Bowl Champions.

- Roger Perry

the victory over the Gordonsville Tigers was especially rewarding for me. A lot of frustrations, for both the Eagles and myself, came to an end that night.

- Jackie Kelley

... third down and time running on the clock — Springfield was behind 7-6 and the defensive players made a tremendous effect on the field goal attempt. I watched the crowd, not the play, and saw excitement. I saw 11 young men exhausted, but knowing they had overcome the first obstacle of class Double "A." This was a moment in itself.

- James Honeycutt

CATCH THE SPIRIT

Westmoreland Cheerleaders work hard to be the spirit leaders of the school. They are talented and more spirited than ever. Not only is cheerleading fun but there is much hard work and practice. The Cheerleaders create run-throughs, organize activities for the student body, and create spirit throughout the school. They face new challenges — attending gymnastics classes and working with a mascot — with spirit. We salute the 1987-88 Eagle Cheerleaders.

The 1987-88 Eagle Cheerleaders are Alicia Borders, Nikki Slicer, Tammy Money, Kim Duffer, Jackie Borders, Marie Tuttle, Shanda Prock, and Lisa Hoskins.

Coach Bobby Hopkins' tradition of coaching basketball began here in Westmoreland twenty-four years ago. In fact, be coached both girls' and boys' basketball and football. He was recognized most recently for his accomplishments when be was named the Class A Coach of the Year for the 1986-1987 basketball season.

Not only does he bave a grip on the athletic aspects, but also on academics as well. He sets an example for everyone to follow. He hopes that the lessons the students learn both in class and on the court will benefit them throughout their lives. Great job, Coach!

SHOOTING FOR THE BEST

In the midst of a winning season in AA, Coach Bobby Hopkins obtained his 500th win. That game was against Greenbrier where the final score was 74-30. In that game, senior Jan Mandrell had game honors with 27 points. She was followed by senior Angie Borders with 17 points. Also senior Lee Tuttle chipped in three points. These three girls have played basketball for Westmoreland since seventh grade and all three are in the top of their class academically. Coach Hopkins' girls keep busy with practices, games, and studying. Their hope this year, as it is every year, is to make a consecutive trip to TSSAA Girl's State Tournaments. Last year, the girls capped off a brilliant season with a trip to the tournaments and a 31-4 record.

Coach James Anderson retired from coaching this year, after a career of 33 years. His coaching spanned from 1954 to 1964 and 1976-87. His coaching was interrupted by being Westmoreland's principal for twelve years. Coach Anderson states, "I enjoyed the games, but coaching is a young man's game." A player from the past Billy Joe Perry says, "He was an easy going coach: he wasn't a coach with a fiery temper. We congratulate Coach Anderson on a job well done.

CONGRATULATIONS COACH

Derrick Cannon, and Greg Law.

The Boys Basketball Team met three new challenges with class. First, losing several seniors inspired them to work harder and develop new talents. Second, competing for the first time in class AA sharpened their skills and raised their expectations. Third, losing a head coach and gaining a new one required adjustments and cooperation. Although the loss of Coach James Anderson was deeply felt, Coach David Vincent and Assistant Coach Jackie Hanes made the transition an easier one. Congratulations for an inspiring and exciting year!

PRINCIPAL

DEWAYNE OLDHAM

Graduating from college with honors after being told by a teacher that he would not make it is one of Mr. Oldham's greatest accomplishments.

He credits another teacher, an English teacher from high school, for turning his life around. "She instilled in me a feeling of self confidence. She made me feel like I was someone special. She also taught an Honors History Class and when I approached her about being in her class, she said that she would be delighted. It gave me a sense of self-esteem and belonging."

These negative and positive experiences motivated him to enter the field of education. He wants to ensure that "all students be treated fairly and equally."

GRADUATING CLASS OF 88

Graduation is far from being an end; it is the beginning of all your tomorrows. Over the past several years you have worked and studied, and now you are here, ready to begin your lives as members of the adult community.

For some of you, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of family living. For others, this will mean college and further years of study and preparation. Whatever course your future takes, it is my sincere hope that you will look back on your years here as having prepared you to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present. The best of luck and congratulations to the Class of 88.

Sincerely, Dewayne Oldham, Principal

VICE PRINCIPAL GENE FERGUSON

During Mr. Ferguson's early years of teaching, he was approached after a graduation ceremony by a young man whom he had taught in class and coached in football. They shook hands and the young man did something that will never be forgotten by him. He sincerely thanked Mr. Ferguson for all that he had done for him. This moment is a special one for him because he had done for him only what he had tried to do for all of his students. The "thank you" helped him to realize that the job he was doing was important and that he was doing it effectively.

According to Mr. Ferguson, this experience "has been a motivating factor for me to continue in education. You get very few immediate "thank you's" in this profession so that the ones you do receive are very special."

CLASSIC MOMENTS

My most classic moment was December 6, 1986, when I received my diploma from Tennessee Tech. University.

Ralph White

My classic moment would have to be when in my first year as Softball Coach, Westmoreland High won its first State Championship. (1981)

Coach Roger Perry

The classic moment was my arrival at a New York City bus station and no one was there to meet me. At the time I had just recently graduated from high school and had never been anywhere. Following much confusion and the passing of several hours a relative finally "found" me.

Glenda Akins

During high school I remember when my eleventh grade English class went to a mansion in Richmond, Virginia and we took pictures of ourselves around the estate as we were dressed in 20's attire. We were reenacting The Great Gatsby for a slide presentation, which was an enrichment activity after reading the book. We had fun posing as F. Scott Fitzgerald's many characters. We dreamed that we were living the life of the rich, with their many luxuries, the fancy cars, the oriental tapestries, the designer clothes, fine china, crystal and silver etc.

Laura Wootten

I went to a one-room school during first grade. We students had to share a double desk. One day when my desk partner was "visiting" with another student, I chewed all her parafin "black mustache" that she had brought to school. It tasted wonderful. She cried when she discovered her loss and told the teacher. That moment, however, begins another story.

Wanda Johnson

PROUD TO BE AN EAGLE

During my senior year here at WHS I was privileged to serve, along with Roger Meador, as co-editor of the school year-book. We were lucky enough to be working under the watchful eye of Mrs. Carolyn Winn. All year we planned and worked — and planned and worked — toward making that the best yearbook ever!

We looked anxiously toward that day in the spring when yearbooks arrived and were unveiled at a student assembly in the auditorium. That glorious day finally arrived! Word leaked out to us editors that for some strange reason Mrs. Winn was carefully guarding our treasure in the office and that there might not be the long-awaited unveiling on that day.

We were crushed! How dare she? That was our yearbook and we had a right to view the finished product.

Much to our dismay, our baby was not perfect. Yes, there were a few flaws. But even those flaws could not diminish the pride we held in a job we considered well-done.

The presentation ceremony did go on that day, and I will never forget the feeling of success and pride I felt; pride not only in myself, but in the wonderful school of which I was a part. Even today that Eagle pride runs deep, and I can still say that I am proud to be a part of WHS!

CLASSIC MOMENTS

A classic moment for me was when I received the Plaque Award for the Most Outstanding Student at my graduation from Westmoreland High School in 1966.

Cheryl Cox

When I had enough money to buy my "first" and "only" car — my 1972 Chevy Nova.

April Hubbard

One day while I was a student at Allen County High School, the principal decided that the students were making too much noise in the halls between classes. He made a new rule that there would be no loud talking. Forgetting all about the new rule, I saw one of my friends at the other end of the hall and yelled to her. She answered and we had a loud conversation. After we got to class the principal came over the PA system and announced to my embarrassment my name along with three others who were making too much noise.

Maxine Johnson

As a music major in college I "tried out for the university band's field commander position. It was a very important position and a female was very unlikely to be selected. When the director called us in to give the results, I found I had been selected. As I left the try-out area, all of my high school field commander students met me with flowers. I felt this was very special knowing that they, like I, didn't know what the results would be.

Rita Garner

Once upon a time I had a Sophomore English Class. In this class one day a girl decided to announce to the class and to me that she loved me. The statement was a surprise to everyone but her. Unfortunately, due to a sinus problem I was having at the time (and probably momentary high blood pressure), my nose began to bleed. Without an explanation (and no handkerchief) I left the room. When I returned about two minutes later, the girl was in her seat, all was quiet, and class resumed.

AND LEADERSHIP

A SPECIAL THANK YOU-

Adding that "special touch" are those who receive little recognition because they are "behind the scenes." They help to provide a pleasant atmosphere for students and faculty not only with a clean school and a warm meal, but also with an encouraging smile and a warm hello.

Thus, we extend a sincere thank you to our custodians and cafeteria staff for adding that special "sparkle" to the routine of our school days.

Mrs. Adcock and Mr. Johnson take a break from their busy schedule to pose for us.

Mrs. Cothron works in the bookstore with her son, Marty. Afterwards, she helps to provide a cleaner school.

THANKS FOR ...

Keeping our school clean.

Enhancing our lunch room for the holidays with santa's, pumpkins, and easter bunnies.

Opening the bookstore when we are hungry.

Picking up the yearbooks in Clarksville, (Mr. Johnson)

Cleaning up after school basketball games.

Pleasing us with your home-made cookies and variety of different foods.

My most classic moment was when the Annual Staff dedicated the annual to me. This was something I'll always remember and be very grateful for it.

Doris Anderson

One day I was using one of our big kettles, I burned the food in it. I thought, I'll put some Scaleaway in the pot to help clean it. Granny Francis came along and she put some clorox in it. The two chemicals mixed. It looked like a witches brew. The odor was so awful Lou couldn't speak. Ruby poured it out the back door. She thought it was going to eat her tires off. We still laugh about it. Carol Borders

I can't remember a classic moment while working in the cafeteria, but I do remember one time. I took a bite of cornbread, the other workers were on the other end of the caferteria, and didn't know until it was over. I almost choked to death on the cornbread. It was funny when it was over. But they could have been absent a worker, without knowing what had happened. Lou Day

I have worked for eleven years in the cafeteria and one Valentine's Day they came with a beautiful pot of flowers. The card said, From your Secret Admirer, To Ruby. I made a statement that my husband didn't buy the pot of flowers, I suspected everybody else. I didn't take the flowers home that day. I tried to find a way to tell him first. When Kenneth got home he said he would have gotten me something for Valentines Day but he just didn't have time. I said that's all right someone has got in front of you. We had the biggest argument we had ever had in eighteen years. When you think you know someone like a book, you will find out you don't really know them as good as you thought you did. After all of this Kenneth had gotten the flowers for me. Ruby Graves

Several years ago the cafeteria staff would cook for the Junior and Senior proms. This particular time we had lamb steaks, fresh strawberry shortcake, punch, etc. We would cook it in the cafeteria and take it down to the gym the best way we could. This particular time we decided to take our punch on the small tables. We spilled it all the way to the gym. Finally, some parents decided to help us since we were having a hard time. We got on the back of this truck with our white uniform pants on a rode back to the cafeteria. Guess what, when we got off we had black grease all over our pants. We didn't have any clean ones to put on and had to wear them the rest of the night while we worked. It was very embarrassing because this was a very special night. We really laughed and had alot of fun about this.

JR. HIGH

Striving to conquer new challenges — pulling hopes and dreams into reaching distance.

As the new year begins, the Junior High students come in contact with new challenges and exciting adventures.

Adjusting to a new environment, along with new teachers, classes, and friends are a few of the obstacles the seventh graders are forced to overcome. Even though they are the new students of our school, they show their "Eagle Spirit" by helping us out at peprallies and other school events.

Not being the youngest student is a major factor for the eighth graders. As they have already adjusted to their surroundings, they enjoy spending time with their friends. Along with more responsibilities, they face harder subjects and more homework!

As they strive to conquer these new challenges, they pull their hopes and dreams into reaching distance. For reality may be seen today, but Classic Moments will last forever.

COACH JACKIE KELLEY

Dedication, hard work, and having the will to win were the main objectives the Junior High football team held on to as they went undefeated through the season of "87". Coach Kelley commented, "Motivating this group was especially easy, you just reminded them that they were the Westmoreland Eagles". Motivation proved to be working as the Jr. Eagles came home with an (8-0) record. An important quality which took them a long way was their attitude and good sportsmanship. Coach Honeycutt added, "Their good attitude will take them a long way in whatever they want to do, whether it be athletics or just living a full life." As most people seem to spotlight the "Big Eagles," we should keep our eye on the "Little Eagles," too. You don't always have to be big in size, to be big in "class."

A NEW BEGINNING

As the new walls go up, so do new dreams. As a student or a member of the faculty, everyone has expectations as we move into our new school. Where we once saw a parking lot, we now see the walls and frame of our new high school rising before our eyes. "Progress on the school appears to be on schedule. We have been assured that we will open in the fall of '88," stated Mr. Ferguson. Fewer student drop-outs and better facilities seem to be important factors among the faculty at W.H.S. The students mainly want a school of which they can be proud. As the walls and our dreams climb their way to the top, so does our reputation. Although we are looking forward to attending our new school, we still show our "Eagle Spirit" while we wait. We don't have to be "new" to have class, but new beginnings are exciting.

A FAREWELL WITH CLASS

Billy Caldwell is a senior at Westmoreland High School. He has gone to school here all his life. Now in his thirteenth year of school Billy hasn't missed a day since he started. He said the reason he did it was he didn't want to stay at home. In addition, he is striving to beat his brother Doug's record. Billy says his parents inspired him not to miss any school. There aren't very many students that accomplish what Billy is trying.

Billy deserves a classic farewell for his attempt to leave W.H.S. with a perfect record.

A SPECIAL FAREWELL

We extend a farewell to Mrs. Mary Garrett who retired in 1986 after serving as guidance counselor at WHS for 18 years.

Her goal has always been to help people and that's why she became first a teacher and then a counselor.

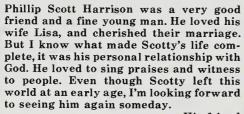

Mrs. Garrett felt that by being a counselor she could help students with problems and with their future education.

We also extend a thank you for the care and time she invested in each of us during those 18 years. She presented us with the gift of sincere compassion and genuine warmth. Thank you, Mrs. Garrett.

Scotty Harrison

It was my pleasure to have Scotty in class for four years. The most enjoyable experience I have had in teaching was the week that Scotty went to Future Farmer camp. Scotty kept us in stitches and made the week a most enjoyable experience. Scotty's greatest attribute was his personality. He had the gift to be friendly to everyone and could make almost anyone smile. Scotty's death was a great loss to the Westmoreland area but if our personalities can be improved just a little because of his influence, then maybe his death will not go in vain.

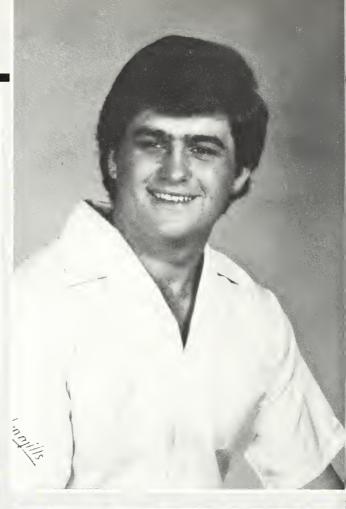

Bill Ligon

His friend Tracy Carter Class of "83"

In loving memory of our former friend and schoolmate Scotty Harrison. Scotty will always be remembered for his contagious smile and beautiful voice. He was ever ready to laugh or cry with his friends and to share his love of life in either vocal or instrumental music. Scotty will certainly be missed by all his family and friends.

Mrs. Gail Johnson

Roger Tadlock

In loving memory of our former friend and schoolmate Roger Tadlock. Roger was a quiet young man with an outstanding capacity for caring. He focused his life around his wife and family and strived to keep them safe and sound. His quiet, caring ways will be missed by all who knew him.

Junior Troutt

In loving memory of our former friend and schoolmate Junior Troutt. Junior's place in the memory of his family and friends will always be secure because of his intense desire to experience life to its fullest. Junior was always present to support his school and his friends in what ever way possible. His absence will surely leave a void in the lives of both family and friends.

Mrs. Gail Johnson

Junior was a unique individual who was born with a great desire to live life to its fullest. He loved hunting. He loved playing football. He loved making projects in the shop, Junior accepted his medical misfortune and was determined to squeeze the most out of life.

Bill Ligon

We dedicate these pages In loving memory of ...

Junior Troutt whose determination and perserverance was an inspiration to everyone.

Scotty Harrison whose integrity values were reflected in his smile.

Roger Tadlock whose love of family underscored the best of what we can hope to be.
